Great Minds Create Great Ideas!

The Membership Promotion team promote Collegiate Farm Bureau groups at Illinois universities.

The Leadership Development team placed ads in Champaign & Springfield on the curbside of busses: "Agriculture: Explore the Possibilities 1 in 4 Jobs (in Illinois)".

The Quality of Life team published Rules of the Country Road, a booklet to alert motorists to things that are unique to rural driving, and a reminder to all to share the road safely and courteously.

The Consumer Outreach team conducted a theatre advertising campaign using ads that feature farmers talking about growing safe food.

You Can Help Create

Great Things!

You may not have a crystal ball, or the ability to determine the future of agriculture. But your special skills can create great things for agriculture. Get involved in the Illinois Farm Bureau ACTION TEAMS and you'll be involved in special projects that put agriculture in the forefront. You will help create a positive future for farming.

You Participate

Each ACTION TEAM consists of 10-15 volunteers who – in only two days – turn unique ideas and experiences into a year of activities and amazing results.

ACTION TEAMS are for both the experienced leaders and those new to Farm Bureau. Voting and Associate members are eligible.

As an ACTION TEAM member, you serve a two-year term with a two-term limit on the same team (4 years total). IFB reimburses your meeting expenses, including mileage, lodging and meals.

You Decide

Quality of Life – Projects that advocate farm safety, health and success.

Consumer Outreach – Create awareness and educate consumers about Illinois agriculture.

Membership Promotion – Promote membership and member benefits.

Leadership Development – Promote leadership development and volunteer involvement.

You Create

Twice a year, you meet with other ACTION TEAM members from around the state to brainstorm and develop a plan for one or two statewide projects. The best part is that you share a common goal with other members of your team – to help create great things for agriculture.

You See

Even before you leave your team, the IFB staff begins the necessary work to make your ideas a reality. Your proposal is presented to the IFB Board, and, if approved, is set into action to produce results for Farm Bureau and agriculture.

You Join

Complete the attached application form and return it by November 24 to your county Farm Bureau. The signature of your county Farm Bureau president is required. You can make even more of an impact as a team chair or vice chair.
